

EDDIE DOMINGUEZ'S

Tupinamba

"Mexican Food Supreme"

The Dominguez family welcomes you to Tupinamba Mexican Restaurant where the finest in authentic Mexican dishes have been served for over 50 years.

Papa Froylán Dominguez fled Mexico in 1910 during the height of the Mexican Revolution. He brought with him wife, Consuelo, family recipes that he and his wife Consuelo began serving to Dallas in 1947 at the first Tupinamba restaurant in Oak Cliff. It is believed that the Dominguez family introduced the nacho & sour cream enchilada to Dallas.

The secret family recipes for such dishes as meat tacos & chili have been passed on to son, Eddie, and grandson, Jeff, who continue to serve quality Mexican food that Dallas has come to expect from Tupinamba.

So, again welcome to Tupinamba & enjoy Mexican Food Supreme where a family tradition has become a Dallas legend.

TUPINAMBA - A people living in the Eastern Lowland area of South America, related to the Tupi of the Rio Sao Francisco and the Guakani of Paraguay and adjacent portions of Brazil & Argentina.
